

22nd May ~ thoughts

Remembering 22 women and children murdered at the Manchester Arena two years ago today and Fusilier Lee Rigby murdered 6 years ago.

Lee Rigby was from Manchester but it always rains and looks grim whenever I visit so this is a thoughtful photograph of the Lancashire/Merseyside coastline. Part of Antony Gormley's Another Place sculpture on Crosby sands.

I know people will be gathering in Woolwich to quietly pay respects. The council have finally agreed to a better memorial near the spot where Lee Rigby died. In Manchester family and survivors have been invited to a
