

Anjem Choudary's wife now faces police investigation

Channel 4's Dispatches programme. The young woman who went undercover is one of the bravest reporters of any documentary I have personally watched – she was very impressive. Not physically a big woman, and from her voice, very young. I take my hat off to her.

In one anti-Semitic rant she said: “The audacity and the arrogance of these Jews and they encourage killing of Muslim children and Muslim women. The amount of Muslim children – I won't even use the word Palestinian – Muslim children that are in custody of those filthy Jews.”

The comments were broadcast on Channel 4 last November, but because Choudary was facing trial, her identity could not be revealed for fear of prejudicing his chances of a fair hearing.

Confirming that she was now under investigation, a Scotland Yard spokesman said: “We are aware of the documentary. The Met's counter-terrorism command executed search warrants at addresses in east London in relation to these inquiries. There have been no arrests. Inquiries are ongoing.”
