

Bicycle Riding in Dorchester

by Esmerelda Weatherwax (January 2013)

The summer before last Max Gate, which recently became the responsibility of the National Trust. Hardy had Max Gate built in 1885 and lived there until his death in 1928.

Rover with its Viking Rover bonnet badge was one of the mainstays of the British motor manufacturing industry, in the days we had such a thing.

here.

Esmerelda Weatherwax is a regular contributor to the Iconoclast, our community blog. To view her entries please click