

The Secret that was No Secret

by Armando Simón (August 2025)

A Question of Command (Felipe Jesus Consalvos, 20th C)

We know they are lying, they know they are lying, they know we know they are lying, we know they know we know they are lying, but they are still lying. –Solzhenitsyn

Original Sin, the book authored by a component of the media hivemind, sparked a firestorm three months ago inside the hivemind itself over the revelation of the “secret” that was no secret. Had the book been written by a libertarian or a conservative instead of a liberal, the contents would have been automatically labeled as “far right disinformation” and thoughtlessly ignored. As it is, liberals proclaimed how shocked—yes, shocked! —they were at learning the news, especially by the media hivemind (“Gee, I didn’t know!”), and this in turn led to a torrent of scorn in TikTok being poured on liberal journalists. Some have even written that when his senility was pointed out in the very beginning by conservatives and libertarians, that was labeled right wing disinformation, while those who took part in the coverup are now pointing the finger at other journalists. Even Jill Biden’s press secretary is turning against the Bidens in self-righteous indignation—now that it is safe and even fashionable. Karine Jean-Pierre, the White House press secretary likewise announced she is leaving the Democrat Party and will soon publish a book revealing how dysfunctional was the administration—the same entity she lied for to the public.

Nevertheless, even now some liberal journalists are either denying that the media covered up Biden’s dementia or that the old man is senile, including Democratic politicians. Their willful blindness, based on fanaticism is astounding.

And, although everyone talked about how the authors made a breakthrough in what they found, their sources had already been openly babbling about the fiasco that was Joe Biden's Administration, with their covering up the man's senility from day one (which is why he was picked by the elites as their candidate for the fraudulent election of 2020). Lindy Li, in particular, gave extensive details. The only difference is that it is in book form now.

The Evidence

Instead of writing in generalities, I will present raw data—an overabundance of data—which patently demonstrated Biden's dementia. These occurrences took place in full view of the public with members of the hivemind around, but they refused to point out the evidence and sound the alarm. So, they have no excuse and were complicit. Needless to say, an equal number of occurrences must have taken place inside the White House.

A faux pas here and there would mean nothing, of course, but together, as an avalanche, they add up. At some point, one has to connect the dots. If the list seems long and tedious, that is precisely the point. There was an abundance of evidence, except for those who insisted in keeping their eyes shut, or outright lying.

This on top of his repeatedly falling going up stairs, at a ceremony, on stage, and falling off a bicycle.

Since he was not really running the country, no wonder he spent so much time on vacation, leaving it to the Marxist Politburo inside the White House.

During the campaign for the 2020 election, Biden was kept hidden (supposedly from Covid) in his basement but, even so, when he occasionally surfaced like a gopher he called one voter to her face “a dog faced pony soldier.” The media immediately made up a story that it was a phrase from a John Wayne movie, or that it was a joke. Elsewhere, he called a voter fat and a “damn liar.” Also, “You’re full of shit.” When these events were put on Facebook they were labeled misinformation, one of the countless acts of censorship by Facebook.

Just prior to the election, where he supposedly won way more votes than anyone in history (suddenly, in the middle of the night), he publicly blurted out that he and others had put together the most comprehensive voter fraud organization in the history of American politics.

At the National Education Association annual conference, he introduced himself as “I’m Joe Biden’s Husband, Joe Biden.”

At a campaign stop in Texas, Biden forgot the well-known words to the Declaration of Independence that every schoolchild knows.

Biden claimed to have been arrested during the apartheid era when he tried to meet with Nelson Mandela. Years later, he said the same, so perhaps this time it was just a lie rather than dementia.

He got lost on stage again. At least this time he had background music, which seemed unintentionally satirical.

At a campaign event with Kamala Harris, he declared that America had 54 states; then he almost fell off the stage while she, fretting, tried to hold him steadily without appearing to do so.

In 2020, progressive commentator and loudmouth Cenk Uygur pointed out the obvious, namely that Biden was showing signs of dementia. In 2020! Later, Democrats and the media hivemind would insist the 2020 election was not subject to fraud.

In a meeting with the Israeli prime minister, Joe Biden seemed to fall asleep for almost a minute. The same thing happened when he met with the Israeli president.

In regards to his tax hike, he stated that no one earning less than $400,000/year would pay taxes.

He was mumbling incoherently during his briefing on the 2021 Atlantic hurricane season.

Politico reported that the White House staff was terrified that Biden would meet with reporters without being trained beforehand.

During a press conference, Biden stated that nobody uses the word “tornado” anymore.

During a speech, he stated he was committed to have zero emissions from electricity could be achieved by 2020. He spoke in 2021.

Biden introduced black senior Adviser Cedric Richmond as “a boy who knows Louisiana very, very well”.

At the G20 summit, Biden blurted out he was given a list of the only reporters he was allowed to call on.

His speech on the anniversary of 9/11 was an example of rambling incoherence.

In regards to the 2018 massacre in The Tree of Life Synagogue, he claimed to have visited it after the tragedy. Not true.

Biden was being given orders by the Pulitburo, but he would sometimes go off script, sometimes simply by revealing the orders he had been given.

While being interviewed on CNN, Biden forgot what city he was in.

Biden just said that he was a liaison during the Six Day War in Israel, which was not true.

At the Christmas tree lighting ceremony, he was introduced to the crowd, but failed to come out. Somebody had to remind him to do so.

In a speech at the White House regarding Juneteenth, Biden was incoherent at times.

One time when Biden was starting to become incoherent, his handlers cut Biden's feed. When Republicans pointed it out, the media hivemind became indignant with them.

Joe Biden claimed he had been arrested marching in the civil rights movement. Not true.

When a component of the media hivemind asked Joe Biden whether he would end Trump's Title 42 regarding the expulsion of illegal aliens, Biden started rambling about mandating face masks on airplanes.

In a celebration of appointing an idiot to the US Supreme Court, Biden mentioned Biden he "was in the foothills of the Himalayas with Xi Jinping, traveling with him [backpacking?]. "That's when I traveled 17,000 miles when I was Vice President. I don't know that for a fact."

Here is a partial compilation of his senile gaffes while speaking in Congress.

In a speech, he forgot Thomas Edison's name. He also could not recall the name of his Secretary of Commerce. Or his Secretary of Defense. Or many others.

He reminded black voters in Atlanta that George Wallace praised him, which he reciprocated.

Biden stated he was paid a million dollars while he taught at the University of Pennsylvania. Was it perhaps in the Communications Department? No matter. He never did.

He referred to Kamala Harris as the First Lady, which must not have pleased Jill Biden.

Biden was photographed holding a cheat sheet while he spoke, but what was more important is what he said at the end of his speech in the White House: "I'll take your questions, and as usual, folks, they gave me a list of the people I'm going to call on." You can bet they submitted the questions in advance. Which proves that the WH press corps knew in what condition he was in and they were just propaganda peddlers.

At a graduation for midshipmen, Biden wrongly stated he had gone to Iraq and Afghanistan 40 times.

Biden had the habit of reading a speech and of also reading out loud the orders he was supposed to do. In front of "journalists."

It is hard to say whether it was his senility or just echoing the official Party line when he stated that police officers were killed during the January six "insurrection."

On at least one occasion, Biden referred to Kamala Harris as the President.

In the State of the Union, he referred to Ukrainians as the Iranian people.

After the Consumer Prices jumped 8.5% over the previous 12 months, Biden stated that Americans experienced 0% inflation.

A camera caught Biden's written orders from his handlers on what to do and say, such as "enter the Roosevelt Room and say hello to participants." And "YOU take YOUR seat." And "YOU thank participants" and "YOU depart." Biden would occasionally grumble about his handlers not letting him do things.

One time when Biden screwed up a speech, the White House staff altered the transcript of what he said.

He mentioned in a speech that the American people had received an $8,000 stimulus check because of Covid. I never got mine.

Biden claimed that he gave his uncle a Purple Heart because of his actions at the Battle of the Bulge. Nope.

Seconds after Biden shaking hands with his fellow leftist, Chuck Schumer, he wanted to shake hands again.

At the US Naval Academy's Class of 2022 graduation, Biden claimed he had been appointed to the Naval Academy. And screamed at his captive audience.

After giving a speech, Biden wandered around the stage, unsure what to do.

More mumbling from Joe Biden. Between his mumbling and Kamala's word salad perhaps they should have created a school of oratory.

He declared he was raised in the Puerto Rican community. Then he went to Puerto Rico and spoke gibberish.

During a rally in favor of killing babies, the gibberish was present.

While meeting the Fettermans in Pennsylvania, he told the wife she would be a "great lady" in the Senate.

At the White House, Biden delivered a talk, then called upon a reporter who raised her hand, then apologized because he remembered he is not allowed to do so. "I, I'm sorry ... I took control. I shouldn't do that. I'm not allowed to do that," whereupon his masters kicked out the "journalists." Note that even in 2022, conservatives (never Republican politicians!) were asking who is in control? In another instance of his bizarre behavior, the conservative reporter writes, "Any one of these things happening just once would be odd. Twice would be concerning. But this ... this is pure Armageddon. We are in trouble."

In talking about gun control, Biden pointed out that his legislation would outlaw 8 bullets in a round.

In speaking at a black university, Biden said that he got his start at a black university. Elsewhere, he claimed that he invented insulin, which is some trick since insulin is produced in the body. And, again elsewhere, instead of beginning a speech with "Ladies and Gentlemen," he began "Gays and Gentlemen." That may not have gone over too well.

And even though he signed an executive order to eliminate student loan debt, he said that Congress passed the law.

When Biden wrongly stated that gasoline was at $5, that may have been an honest mistake, though the words "honest" and "Biden" just don't go together. They repel each other.

At a White House event full of "journalists," Biden introduced Rep. Jackie Walorski of Indiana and asked for her in the crowd. She was not there. She was in the cemetery. Perhaps if he had had the help of Hillary in drawing a pentagram, Walorski might have made an appearance after all.

In Indonesia, he was given a list of instructions (orders) on what to do and say, with the written orders perfectly visible.

At this point, it would be good to remember that during the first year of Trump's first administration, the media clamored 600 times that he be removed under the 25th Amendment for mental incapacity simply for saying politically incorrect things the Democrats/media hivemind hated to hear.

2023

During a visit with India's prime minister, Biden admitted having sold a lot of state secrets. That may not have been a lie or a gaffe, but an unintentional admission.

In a meeting with Putin, Biden got mixed up on some things.

It was revealed that at least one "journalist" submitted the question to the Biden staff prior to the press conference.

Biden announced he was going to build a transoceanic railroad track from the Pacific Ocean to the Indian Ocean (I was not going to buy a ticket).

In a ceremony, Biden sang Happy Birthday to Martin Luther King III's wife—then forgot her name.

In 2023, a former White House doctor demanded the end of the coverup of Biden's mental and physical deterioration. However, another doctor was found to declare him fit as a fiddle, which some thought hilarious.

When asked about running for a second term by a "journalist," Joe Biden's mind went blank.

He had difficulty pronouncing big words (national oceanic atmospheric administration) written down for him.

While Pete Buttigieg pretended to be lactating and feeding a baby he and his "husband" had adopted, he also pretended to be the Secretary of Transportation, during which time a train of toxic chemicals derailed in East Palestine (FEMA did not help since it was secretly channeling funds to illegal aliens). When, three weeks later, Biden was asked by one of the networks' talking heads if he had talked to the mayor, he said he could not remember.

Then, talking to a group of rabbis, he stated he had been raised in a synagogue. Elsewhere, he said that because of his strong ties to the community he is known as Bidenopoulos.

While in Israel, he told some health professionals that his son was killed in Iraq, which was not true.

While speaking at Milwaukee, he claimed to have been in Pittsburgh when the bridge collapsed.

In a meeting with the Israeli prime minister, Biden had trouble saying what he was told to say.

At a campaign stop in Manhattan, Biden repeated himself word for word, a common symptom of dementia. He also forgot to shake hands with the president of Brazil and collided with a flag post.

An ESPN host was shocked at Biden's incoherence but said nothing about it as a story, just mentioned it to someone else. Considering she worked at ESPN, she would almost certainly have lost her job if she had done so. Before the interview, every word, every question, was gone over again and again as if she was the one with dementia.

He forgot to sign an executive order after he said he was going to, which really did not matter since someone from the Politburo had been signing for him all the time.

While speaking at the Congressional Hispanic Caucus Institute he referred to them as the Congressional Black Caucus. Understandable, since he is a racist and all minorities must look alike to him.

At a fundraiser event, he forgot how many grandchildren he had.

His cringeworthy gibberish is worth it just to read the comments by the public.

At a joint presser at the White House with the Australian prime minister, Biden was given a list of reporters he was ordered to call for questions, along with their pictures so he would not get confused.

At the Irish Parliament, Biden read his speech from the teleprompter, including the end, "End of quote."

In Philadelphia, as President, he announced his candidacy for ... Congress.

Joe Biden gave another one of his incoherent speeches at West Point. The media, as usual, looked the other way.

At a rally in Virginia, Biden and Kamala got into a contest as to who could dish up the better word salad.

More gibberish from the Commander in Chief.

More gibberish at the UN.

In a campaign stop, Biden brought up once opening a hotel door in a towel and wearing shaving cream.

In North Carolina, Biden claimed that he just shook hands with a Congresswoman who was not there.

In several public events, he put his foot in his mouth again and again, such as reading his orders out loud, and stating, "I don't know why we're surprised by Trump. How many times does he have to prove we can't be trusted?" How true. How true.

Right after he gave an inspirational speech in the Amazon, Joe Biden turned right around and wandered off into the jungle.

While speaking at Las Vegas, the old man confused Macron with Mitterrand. At least they were both French, which was not the case when he confused the president of Mexico with the president of Egypt. Or Gaza with Ukraine.

And it just goes on, this time butchering a quote from Lincoln. His donors went away with some misgivings after hearing him.

A New York Times correspondent started using a translation headset to decipher Biden's mumbling.

In 1987, he not only plagiarized a British politician he also lied about being the first in his family to go to college. In 2024, he repeated the lie, apparently forgetting he was caught in the lie before—or he actually believed it this time.

At New Hampshire, he delivered a speech, then asked his masters if he was allowed to take questions from the audience.

In 2024, Biden stated that he was in the 20th century.

A press conference with the Kenyan president was another public fiasco. This begs the question: why did mouthbreathing Republican politicians say nothing on Biden's obvious senility? For that matter, why did they not say anything about the covid fiasco?

In a joint press conference with the Japanese prime minister, he struggled to figure out which "journalist" he was supposed to call on to ask questions. Later, in Japan, he had trouble figuring out how to open an umbrella and addressed the prime minister as "president."

One time, he stated that his uncle was in a plane that was shot down during WWII, which was true, and that he was eaten by cannibals, which was not true.

Remember the previous claim of having taught at the University of Pennsylvania? He remembered again.

In his mind, he has had many accomplishments, such as driving an 18-wheel truck, whereas at other times he can barely speak.

At a G7 meeting in Italy, Biden wandered off. Prime Minister Meloni, like a nurse, had to take him by the arm and bring him back. This was on video and publicized in conservative outlets. Liberals became furious, once again calling for censorship of “disinformation.” Elsewhere in Italy, he met with the Pope and decided to press his forehead to the Pontiff.

At the end of a fundraising event among the entitled Hollywood cocaine snorting celebrities, Biden just stood at the stage probably wondering what he was doing there, and had to be led off by Obama gently pushing him along. They raised a lot of money from the elites for Biden’s re-election.

Once again, Biden read his orders on the teleprompter.

He forgot the name of his Secretary of Defense (“the black man”).

He was on a tarmac to greet some people who arrived by plane. After they disembarked, Biden turned around and went up into the airplane, leaving everyone on the tarmac not knowing what to do. Eventually, he came out again, still disoriented.

After a speech in Tampa, he shook hands with the air.

He also said in regard to the trouble in the Middle East that the Mexican president is calling the shots in Gaza.

While he was in Africa, he seemed to be falling asleep during a speech by the Tanzanian president.

In Brazil for the G20 meeting, all the world leaders posed for a photograph, but Joe Biden wandered off somewhere.

Whereas previously, he had called upon somebody who was dead, on another time Biden referred to someone who was alive as being dead.

One of Joe Biden's abilities, besides his gift for corruption, bribery, and being a superb ventriloquist dummy, is his gift of being able to talk to dead people—prominent dead people at that—even without the use of a Ouija board.

When a reporter asked him about the strikes in Yemen by terrorists, Biden answered, "I've spoken to both sides. They gotta settle the strike. I'm supporting the collective bargaining effort. I think they'll settle the strike."

Meanwhile, the malicious Pelosi claimed that Trump had dementia and that Biden did well in the infamous debate with Trump. This was before she plunged a knife in his back. White House aides also put out a statement that Biden was such a dynamo, he tired his younger aides.

Things got so bad toward the end that his written orders even had to have pictures of where he was supposed to walk and what the podium looked like.

He declared that the Equal Rights Amendment to the Constitution was ratified. Not true.

President Joe Biden's physician, Dr. Kevin O'Connor, at a closed door House Oversight Committee pleaded the 5th. In February of the previous year, he had previously declared Biden "fit for duty."

Denial

For many years, liberals have been conditioned like Pavlovian dogs to avoid conservative news sites (aka “far right”) and sneer at them, be they Fox, American Spectator, New York Post, American Mind, OAN, Issues & Insights, etc. and ignore facts and viewpoints expressed therein. They even admit it.

“The Party [media] told you to reject the evidence of your eyes and ears. It was their final, most essential command.” George Orwell, 1984.

We have seen Orwell’s dictum in the “journalists” who witnessed Biden’s deterioration, yet saw nothing. The White House staff even had Doctor Kevin O’Connor, proclaim him fit both mentally and physically. And when Robert Hur testified on his dementia, Democrats became very angry.

One silver lining to his words was that sometimes he blurted out truths that he was supposed to keep hidden, such as the control his handlers had on him and the fact that in 2022 he admitted having cancer (the “revelation” of having late stage cancer right after the above book came out to make everyone to feel sorry for him).

And questions were even being voiced as to who was really running the country as far back as 2021, since the senile old man was clearly incapable of doing so. Even I used the word “Politburo” the previous year without having contact with White House staffers because of the patently Marxist policies emanating from there.

The years of the Biden Administration was a total disaster for the country. The only thing that can be said for that period were the many satirical creations emanating from it, here and abroad.
