

Balkan Jihad

Political Amnesia and Foreign Policy Autism

by G. Murphy Donovan (September 2016)

“History teaches us that we learn nothing from history.” – Hegel

Foreign policy is often a little like ice fishing. If you pick the wrong companions, the wrong spot, or the wrong time of year, the results can be catastrophic. When the ice gives way, fish in the creel become irrelevant.

more>>>