

Belgium: Yet More Jihad-Related Arrests

As reported just now by Aussie ABC, drawing on reports from Reuters and AFP.

<http://www.abc.net.au/news/2016-02-16/belgium-detains-10-over-islamic-state-recruitment-ring/7174852>

‘Belgium Terrorism Raids: Ten Suspects Detained Over Islamic State Recruitment Ring’.

‘Belgian police have raided homes in Brussels and detained ten people on suspicion of operating a recruitment ring for the Islamic State group.

‘The ten were arrested during raids in Molenbeek (which is a heavily-Islamised suburb, and known hotbed of JIihad – CM) and other areas of the Belgian capital, but the case is not linked to the deadly November [2015] Paris attacks, the federal prosecutor’s office said in a statement.

“Our investigation points to several persons having left for Syria to join Islamic State”, the statement said.

Good riddance to bad rubbish. Bon voyage... now, dear Belgium, just cancel their passports and Belgian citizenship or residency, and quietly – under the table – pass everything you know about them to a/ Mr Assad and b/ Vladimir Putin. That should substantially shorten their – the jihadis’ – life expectancies. – CM

‘Prosecutors said they had seized computer equipment and mobile phones.

‘Belgium has one of the highest per capita rates of participation in militant groups such as Islamic State in Syria and Iraq.

Correction: "The Muslim colony in Belgium has one of the highest per capita rates of participation in jihad gangs such as Islamic State in Syria and Iraq". – CM

'Several of those involved in the Paris killings came from Molenbeek.

Correction: "Several of those involved in the Paris mass-murder attack were Muslims from Molenbeek." – CM

'Belgian police are holding several people (that is, several Muslims – CM) in connection with the November 13 attacks in Paris which left 130 people dead and hundreds wounded (sic: rather, "in which armed jihadis murdered 130 people and wounded hundreds more" – CM) as it emerges that the onslaught was largely organised and coordinated from Belgium (that is: "organised and coordinated by Muslims resident in Belgium" – CM).

'Earlier this month, the authorities identified three safe houses used by key Paris suspects – in Brussels, in Charleroi, an hour's drive south of the capital, and in Auvelais, a village near the French border."

If no Muslims had ever been permitted to settle in Belgium or anywhere else in Europe the mass-murderous attacks on non-Muslims in Paris could not have happened. That is the long and the short of it. And the only way to reduce the probability of more such attacks being made is to reduce, as quickly as possible, the number of Mohammedan fifth columnists on European soil, first by stopping all further entry of Muslims and then by expediting the departure of those already present. – CM