

French academic: Create a Muslim state within France to avoid civil war

A French academic has suggested creating a Muslim state within France in order to prevent a civil war. The problem of a state within the state usually ends with either a break up of the state or warfare ending with one set of laws dominating. Such schemes as proposed by Professor de Moliner will not alter the inevitability of conflict. Translated and posted by