Here is one Frenchman who makes soidarity with Israel in the midst its fourth War with Islamist Terrorist groups Hamas and Palestinian Islamic Jihad with over 3,000 rockets fired at Israel in one week. Note what this Newsweek article point about his giving truth to power in the current disinformation in the media about who are the victims and who has the soverien right to defend Israel.

Christian Estrosi, the mayor of Nice, anti-separatism efforts, billed as eradicating radicalization on French soil but heavily criticized as targeting the country's Muslim community.

Estrosi has previously campaigned against "Islamism-leftism," a term coined by right-wing activists to refer to perceived collusion between leftist academia and Islamist movements.

"Some say that all religions can pose a problem from one moment to another—no, that's not true," he said during a 2015 appearance on France 5 television. "The Christians don't pose a problem. The Jewish religion doesn't pose a problem. There is a real problem posed by Islam."

"It is time we stop being scared of being called Islamophobic and racist," he continued, after stating he did not seek to create a "scapegoat."

"I ask [France's Muslim community] to take their share of the responsibility."
