

Hillary & Evita and their Respective Banana Republics

by Norman Berdichevsky (January 2016)

As First Lady of Argentina from 1945 to 1952, Eva Perón was generally regarded as the most powerful woman in the world and referred to officially as the country's "Spiritual Leader." The "Cinderella from the Pampas," was another common nickname for her idealization by many of the country's poor who identified with her humble origins. more>>>
