

Iraqi Christians Face Extinction: an interview with Joseph T. Kassab

by Jerry Gordon (November 2015)

One of the oldest Christian minorities in the Middle East is in danger of extinction: the Assyrian Chaldeans in Northern Iraq and adjacent Syria. They are descendants of ancient Babylonians and Assyrians who were converted to Christianity in the First Century by disciples of St. Thomas, Mar Marie and Mar Addie. more>>>