

Jeb: "My Brother Kept Us Safe" (after 9/11) Really?

If memory serves there were at least three terror attacks which were purposefully not classified as terror in order to keep up the illusion that we hadn't had another terror attack under Bush. The beltway snipers The second one was in 2006 when Mohammed Reza Taheri-azar rented an SUV and ran into a crowd of students at UNC. Taheri-azar wrote letters to the student paper outlining his motives in Qur'anic chapter and verse. In one letter he wrote, "I was aiming to follow in the footsteps of one of my role models, Mohamed Atta, one of the 9/11 hijackers, who obtained a doctorate degree."

The third was the the list here.
