

Like NER, Atlas Shrugs Has Suffered a Massive DDoS Attack

Pamela Geller is going the the same hell we experienced in June of 2013. She writes:

A week ago today my website Atlas Shrugs was hit with a massive DDoS. I wanted to update you on what's been happening. The affects of the attack suffered last Thursday were crippling. The fall-out is still ongoing.

We tried to go back online yesterday but it failed. My web developer was out of his depth and I have brought in two new companies that specialize in this kind of situation.

In the meantime, I have set up a temporary blog at Typepad,
