

Muslim faith school 'bans inspectors from speaking to pupils & staff during investigation'

Sky News investigations into Deobandi-run schools in the area including the Islamic Institute of Education and the Islamic Tarbiyah Centre, both in Dewsbury.

The Islamic Institute and the Zakaria school are both controlled by Shabbir Daji, an elder of the Deobandi missionary group Tablighi Jamaat which is based at Dewsbury's Markazi mosque.

The Islamic Institute was re-inspected by Ofsted after inspectors allegedly failed to challenge its teaching of the strict Sharia code – it was then downgraded from “good” to “inadequate” The Islamic Tarbiyah Centre, which teaches primary school pupils in the evenings, is now under investigation by the Department for Education over its promotion of an extreme form of Islam
