

Muslim Immigrants

Everyone, from President Obama, to Governor Haslam to Mayor Berke are all promising to “take steps” to prevent this from happening again. After 9-11, the first step President Bush should have taken was to shut off Muslim immigration. That one step could have saved the entire Homeland security budget. We never needed to create another giant bureaucracy, we needed to stop Muslims from coming here, and let the FBI monitor those already here and their mosques. That would have sufficed. Instead, we’ve been bringing in another 100,000 Muslims per year – that’s another million and a half Muslims purposely brought into our country for the FBI and Homeland security to deal with.

You may remember US attorney Bill Killian, who is now dealing with the aftermath of this latest terror attack, had proposed protest in Manchester TN, at the time in protest to his proposal, “Stop all Muslim immigration and end all mosque building, Now!” Otherwise, our children and grandchildren will know terror without end.

Let’s have a moratorium on all immigration, including refugees. Let that become a plank for the Republican party in the next Presidential election.

Institute a moratorium on all immigration and build a barrier on our southern border. Somehow, I think that’s a job Americans WILL do.
