

Non-Stop Hysterical Sentimental Coverage Of "The Three Girls"

With the BBC, bien entendu, leading the sobbing pack.

Rotherham? And those other, those English girls, those non-Muslim girls, who did not determinedly, and voluntarily go off to join a pack of mass-murderers revelling in blood, as these three girls did, but were bullied, blackmailed, seduced, beaten, threatened, filled with drugs and liquor, gang-raped? How many years went by for those thousands, before there was a single story?
