

Ouch! Don't Ask Him. He Knows the Answer.

By Reg Green

Donald Trump's untried picks to slim down vast Government departments will have a hard time of it, of course, maybe an impossibly hard time. But would the most experienced reformer do any better? As the architect Frank Lloyd Wright, another shocker, said about a similar question: "An expert is a person who has stopped thinking. He knows."