

OUCH! There's Danger Everywhere

by Reg Green

As the repaired Ruby Princess cruise ship set off today (Sunday) following what its owners called “unexpected contact” with Pier 27 in the treacherous waters of San Francisco Bay last week, I was reminded of the question a stoic London bobby asked when one of my neighbors tried to explain how his car came to have hit a lamppost: “And who was driving the lamppost at the time, sir?”