

Rape Gang Independent Inquiry is published

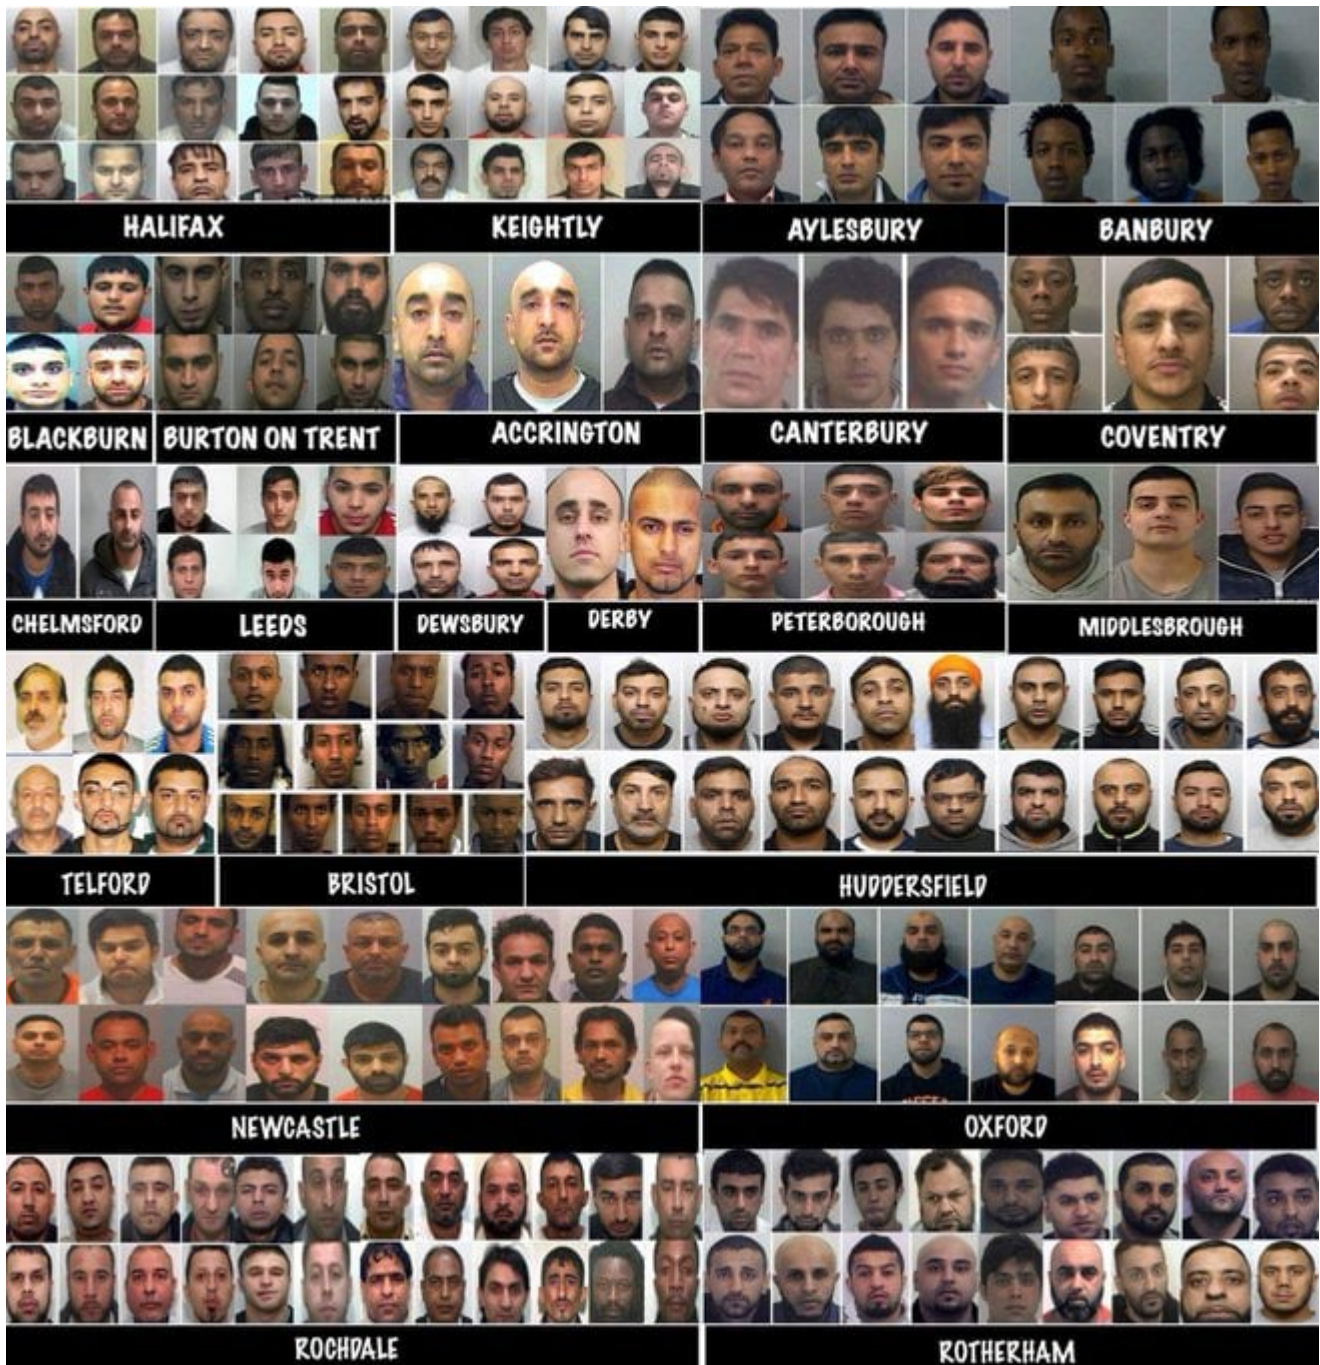

The Independent Rape Gang inquiry, instituted by MP Rupert Lowe of the Restore Party was published this week. During the 2 week inquiry held in February we posted some of the evidence submitted here and here.

The full report is available to read, free of subscription of account requirements here. It's over 200 pages some of it quite harrowing.

Peter McLoughlin's work Easy Meat (published by the New English Review Press and available in several good book retailers, just not Amazon) is referred to and quoted several times, P106, 107 and 114.

The report is damning about the situation in London and Sadiq Khan's denial that there is anything amiss other than the usual crimes in a big city.

It's a lot to digest and I'm still working on it.
