

Rob Ford, RIP

Rob Ford was devoted to Toronto and its people and was always accessible to every Torontonians. He did as he promised and sharply reduced spending by the municipal government and was one of the most personally popular mayors in the city's history. Those who knew him will remember him as a loyal and lively friend who had his faults and paid for them, but as a man of great human qualities.