

Something agricultural

When my husband takes his daily exercise outing by bicycle he can get further than we can on foot.

Here is a vitally important key worker, a farmer, busy earlier this week so that we have a harvest in August and food in the shops.

