

Something black and blue

not to mention white and green. For no other reason than that the sun is shining and I'm in a good mood. The two-for-joy magpies I spotted while taking a walk in the bluebell woods this morning.

