

Something hot, in August, at night

Hot August Night by Neil Diamond. I am I said. This album reminds me of revising for finals in 1975.

It probably isn't hot to those of you who live in Australia, or California, or other such places. But 35C/95Fht at its peak lunchtime is a bit too warm for this Englishwoman.