

Sydney, Australia: Counter-Terrorism Cops Arrest Two Muslim Youths, Seize Knives

I apologise for coming in late with this; the arrest happened last week, but I have not had time to cover it until now.

Make sure to click on links to see the original reports in situ; in one of the news reports there was a picture of the Muslim mama of one of these two jihad-minded young Mohammedans, a figure swathed in black from head to foot, with her face masked and even her hands black-gloved. Methinks the apple did not fall far from that tree; the more covered-up the Mohammedan female, the more probable it is that any associated menfolk will be violently jihad-minded, a correlation noted some time ago by Muslim-in-name-only Tawfiq Hamid.

The initial report from the ABC, courtesy of James Thomas and Jessica Kidd, is here supplemented by a couple of others giving additional information.

“Counter-Terrorism Police Arrest Two Teens, Seize Knives in Sydney

‘Counter-terrorism police have arrested two 16 year old boys (that is: “two 16 year old Muslim boys” – CM) over an incident in Sydney’s southwest.

‘Incident’. They were intending to carry out an act of war, a jihadist ghazi raid. These two ‘boys’ were carrying 30-centimetre-long knives and were planning to carry out either stabbing jihad or throat-slitting/ beheading jihad, upon hapless Aussie infidels. Or perhaps they were going to seek martyrdom-by-infidel-cop. If they had done either of these things – attacked some hapless infidel pedestrian in the street, or barged into the police station and jumped over the counter howling allahu-akbar – would the ABC still blandly call it an “incident”? – CM

‘Officers seized two army-style knives, which can be attached to rifles, when the pair were arrested at Bankstown earlier today (that is, on last Wednesday, 12th October – CM).

‘The ABC understands the knives were purchased this morning.

‘Police intercepted the two boys as they were heading into a prayer hall (that is, a mosque – CM) in Adnum Lane, an alley off Featherstone Street, Bankstown.

They bought great big knives. Then they went not to a synagogue nor a church nor a Taoist temple nor a Hindu or Buddhist shrine, but to a mosque, a Muslim mosque. Funny, that. Question: did the police search the mosque? – CM

‘They are currently (that is, on the day of their arrest – CM) being held at Bankstown Police Station.

‘Family members have been arriving at the police station (I wonder how many? – was it the usual mohammedan insta-mob? – CM) but have refused to comment to waiting media.

‘The arrests were part of an ongoing operation.

‘The ABC understands one of the boys was questioned two years ago by New South Wales Police and the Australian Federal Police over an incident at his school.

“Incident”. So many of these “Incidents” seem to be happening wherever the Mohammedan mob has established itself. – CM

‘It is understood that that incident involved him refusing to stand for the national anthem at the morning assembly of his school – East Hills Boys’ High School – in June 2014 when the boy was 14.

'When questioned why he would not stand for the national anthem, the boy said "he only stands for God" (what he means is, the Muslim 'allah', because despite the interfaith snake-oil salesmen, 'allah' is not the same as the Biblical God – CM), "does not respect this country" (which raises the question: why did his parents come here in the first place? – the answer is probably hijra, the Muslim tactic of immigration-invasion, moving en masse into the dar al Harb in order to destroy it and Islamise it – CM), and "this country sends troops to Afghanistan to kill our men and rape our women" (nota bene: for this Muslim the Taliban jihadis who constitute the sole target of Aussie troops in Afghainstan are "our men"; and as for the farcical accusation of rape, this is merely projecting onto Aussie infidel soldiers the normal behaviour of Mohammedan men toward infidel females always and everywhere; in reality Australian troops have been very, very strictly enjoined to keep clear of Afghan Muslim women, as part of a general policy of 'cultural sensitivity'. – CM)

'Police believe the boy (then aged twelve – CM) also attended the 2012 Hyde Park Riots, and held a sign saying "Behead all those who insult the prophet'.

Since a twelve-year-old or fourteen-year-old Muslim boy from a strict Muslim family would hardly be doing any of these things of his own initiative, one hopes that the AFP and ASIO have a nice fat dossier on the whole family – mum, dad, any siblings, and all the aunts, uncles and cousins. And why the hell did we let this Afghan Muslim family into Australia in the first place? They clearly hate and despise us. We do not need immigrants who hate and despise us, whose intention is to attack and destroy us. Such are not immigrants but invaders, enemy aliens in our midst. – CM

'At the time of the school incident, police held concerns the boy may have radicalised (recruited for Jihad – CM) other students at his school.

'The two men remain in custody and police say there is no ongoing threat to the community'.

Oh yes there is an ongoing threat. So long as there is a Muslim 'community' settled in the midst of Infidel Australia, all Aussie Infidels are in danger. Got Muslims? – Got Jihad. Stabbing jihad, shooting jihad, running-over-with-truck jihad, blowing-up jihad, human-bomb jihad, poisoning-of-restaurant-food jihad (Muslims working in a restaurant in Israel plotted to put thallium in the food), not to mention 'marriage' jihad, and rape Jihad (e.g. Rotherham; Cologne at New Year's Eve), robbery, extortion, riots, threats, litigation jihad, and the never-ending and ever-increasing whingeing, whining, squawking, and demands for accommodation and 'special treatment' becuz we Muswims is just sooo speshul. – CM

A few more details in a Daily Mail (Australian edition) report from Brianne Tolj and Cindy Tran that appeared soon afterward.

"Two knife-wielding teen terror suspects, 16, 'carrying notes pledging allegiance to ISIS", arrested near a mosque in Sydney's west'.

'Handwritten notes pledging allegiance to ISIS were reportedly found in the pockets of two knife-wielding teenage terrorist suspects (two knife-wielding Muslim terrorist suspects – CM) who were arrested near a mosque in Sydney's south-west.

Certain suburbs in southwestern Sydney are very heavily Islamised; they are, indeed, the most heavily Islamised areas of Australia. Kudos to the DM for cutting to the chase and calling it a mosque, rather than – as the ABC primly did – a 'prayer hall'. – CM

'Counter-terrorism police arrested two 16 year old boys on Fetherstone Road in Bankstown on Wednesday afternoon following reports of an alleged terror plot, The Daily Telegraph reported.

'The pair were apprehended by officers near a court-house and the Bankstown Musalla, which is an open space outside a mosque, mainly used for praying.

And for what else? – CM

'The teenagers, who were initially believed to be 17, are believed to have been walking to the Bankstown Police Station with weapons, allegedly two bayonets, according to Nine News.

Hm. Intending to carry out "martydom by Infidel cop"? Well, I guess if they had barged into the cop-shop waving knives and howling allahu-akbar, they would probably have got it. – CM

'The pair, who were also carrying notes pledging their allegiance to the Islamic State, are now ("now" being in the afternoon/ evening of 12th October – CM) being questioned at Bankstown police station, along with numerous family members, including the mother of one of the teenagers.

One hopes the police questioned them each separately, allowing no collusion or conference before or after interrogation; and that family members were not allowed to be present while questioning was taking place, and that any family members questioned were questioned singly, and held separately after questioning, so that no one person knew what questions those before him or her had been asked. Because that way you'd have the fun of totting up all the discrepancies. And if heavily-veiled mama was questioned, one hopes that female cops and a sniffer dog were deployed to search her thoroughly before she was let inside the station, and that she was required – not requested, but required – to remove her Slave Mask, so that her facial expression could be read by the person doing the questioning. – CM

'Witnesses said one of the boys was seen smiling as he sat on the ground in handcuffs.

'Both of the men have been known to police officers for several years, Nine News reported..

'After the pair were arrested, Muslim preacher Junaid Thorne (a convert to Islam – CM) approached officers and asked them to tell him, "Where are my brothers?" the Daily Telegraph reported.

'Thorne was held in the Supermax High Risk Management Centre in Goulburn, NSW, for four months, for dodging counter-terrorism authorities and using a false name to fly from Perth to Sydney, ABC reported.

'A NSW Police spokeswoman told Daily Mail Australia that there was an ongoing investigation but refused to comment further.

"Police are unable to release anything further at this time, however there is no ongoing threat in relation to this matter", police said in a statement.'

Then on 13th October the ABC's Jackson Vernon, with ABC staff, produced another report on the case. Make sure you click on the link, as the article includes a picture of what is purported to be the mother of one of the would-be jihad raiders – swathed in black Slave Rags/ Allah Gang Uniform from head to toe, not a millimetre of skin to be seen.

<http://www.abc.net.au/news/2016-10-13/terrorism-related-charges-laid-16-year-olds-sydney-bankstown/7928190>

'Terrorism Accused Drew Comparisons to Curtis Cheng Murder, NSW Police Allege'.

'One of two 16 year olds (two 16 year old Muslims – CM) facing terrorism-related charges in Sydney allegedly referenced the murder (the Muslim murder – CM) of NSW police employee Curtis Cheng, telling his mother that he would do "something to them that they have never seen before”.

‘The teenagers were arrested by the state’s Joint Counter-Terrorism Team at Bankstown in Sydney on Wednesday in the lane behind a Muslim prayer hall.

‘They were found in possession of two large bayonet-style knives, bought earlier that day, and religious notes that allegedly pledged allegiance to Islamic State.

Surprise, surprise. – CM

‘One of the boys is a relative of Hamdi Alqudsi, who has been jailed for helping young Australians (sic: “young Aussie-passport-holding Muslims” – CM) travel to Syria to fight in the country’s civil war (that is: to join Islamic State’s nascent caliphate and to attack and kill less-observant Sunnis, deemed-heretical Shiites, the despised heretic Alawites, and the hated and despised Infidel Christians and Yazidis. – CM)

‘The pair did not appear in Parramatta Children’s Court on Thursday morning, and did not apply for bail, and it was formally refused.

‘In opposing bail, police said the pair posed an unacceptable risk to the community.

Indeed they do. So, why are we importing more Muslims? The more Muslims we have, the more “incidents” of this sort we are going to get. And why are Muslims like this permitted to remain in the country, rather than being stripped of citizenship or residency, as applicable, and expelled? – CM

‘They are due to return to court in December, unless they apply for bail before then.

‘According to police documents tendered in court, the teen was heard talking to his mother on a lawfully-intercepted conversation in October 2015.

'During the conversation, he allegedly said, "When they come, I am going to do something to them that they have never seen before. I am going to do something bigger".

'It is alleged the threatened actions were an attempt to draw a "direct comparison" between himself and the murder of police employee Curtis Cheng, who had been shot dead (by an allahu-akbaring Muslim youth – CM) the day before (that is, the day before the intercepted conversation – CM).

'Police have alleged the teenager (*then aged twelve – CM) attended a protest four years ago at Hyde Park.

'Police said the teenager's co-accused had shown no remorse for his actions, and while in custody could be seen laughing and joking.

'According to the documents, he was stopped by authorities while attempting to enter a region that is controlled by an internationally-recognised terror group.

'It is also alleged that when he returned to Australia (why on earth was he allowed to return? – CM) he was found in possession of electronic material believed to have been produced by Islamic State.

Never mind about Islamic State propaganda. A plain old copy of the Quran would have been quite sufficient, on its own, to motivate any amount of violent aggression against Aussie infidels. – CM

'At a press conference on Thursday, police said the boys had been charged with acts in preparation to commit a terrorist act and with having membership with a terrorist organisation.

When will the authorities anywhere in the west – or anywhere else – be prepared to bite the bullet and recognise that the Ummah, or Mohammedan Mob, is ... a terrorist organisation? Its founder declared – "I have been made victorious by terror" – and his followers have been using terror as a tactic ever since. – CM

“These charges are extremely serious charges with the acts in preparation to commit a terrorist act with a maximum of life imprisonment”, NSW Police Deputy Commissioner Catherine Burn said.

‘Police said they were “well aware” of the teenagers. “We will be alleging this attack was inspired by the Islamic State” , she said.

And the Islamic State, like every other Muslim entity that has ever waged violent war against infidels and/ or to impose and enforce the sharia of Islam, is inspired by.. .Mohammed and his ‘companions’. By the Sunnah, by the Islamic Trilogy, the Quran, Sira and Hadiths. – CM

“We don’t have any specific information of a particular target where we will allege that there was going to be an imminent attack.

“What we do know, though, is that the actions, we will allege, were enough to say that they were preparing to do an attack, although we don’t know specifically where that attack was going to take place” Deputy Commissioner Burn said.

‘She said it was, “the eleventh imminent attack... we have prevented in this country. There have been four attacks, three have been in NSW”.

And why three in NSW? Because the single largest Muslim colony in Australia is in NSW. – CM

‘No ‘silver bullet’ to youth radicalisation.

Buddhist, Christian, Jewish, Hindu, atheist, animist, Confucian, Taoist, Sikh ‘youth’ in Australia are not being ‘radicalised’, that is, Going Jihad; not unless they leave their original belief system and convert to Islam. So don’t call it 'youth radicalisation'. Call it... "young Muslims going Jihad". If we didn't have any Muslims in Australia we wouldn't have this 'youth radicalisation' problem; if we stop importing Muslims, and remove all the ones who don't have citizenship, and figure out a way to remove citizenship from those who have it, and expel them, then we won't have a 'youth radicalisation' problem. In the meantime, the best we can hope for, is that at least some young Muslims will apostasise, and become Christians, or Buddhists, or atheists, and therefore cease to be dangerous. – CM

'As part of their operation, officers searched a number of homes and also a prayer hall.

One hopes they took a sniffer dog into that 'prayer hall' and looked for traces of illegal drugs and of explosives. – CM

'Australian Federal Police Deputy Commissioner Mike Phelan said: "We have been saying for a long time now that primary for all of us is public safety, and we will act as soon as we have enough information to be able to disrupt any activity".

'Anybody who says they've got the silver bullet to youth radicalisation, please tell me about it", he said.

Want me to tell you, mate? Here it is: got Muslims? – got Jihad. You don't want 'jihad' (one of the forms of which is, nowadays, 'youth radicalisation')?... start figuring out how to have fewer Muslims inside the gates. If our authorities really want to put public safety – the safety of the Infidel Australian Public – first and foremost, then... they must STOP the entry of Muslims, any Muslims, into Australia. End Muslim immigration. Keep out immigrants, tourists, businesspeople, "students", who hold OIC-country passports, unless they can be firmly demonstrated to be from the non-Muslim minorities in those countries – e.g. Copts from Egypt, Hindus and Christians from Pakistan, Buddhists or Hindus or Christians from Malaysia. That would be a start, while we get to work to adjust the laws so that the Muslim fifth-columnists already present can be removed from our midst. – CM

‘Deputy Commissioner Burn said it was “up to the parents” to look for early signs of radicalisation in their children.

Forgetaboutit, Deputy Commissioner. The parents bring the children up to be Muslims. The parents pickle the kid in Islam. The parents take the kid to the mosque. The parents would disown or possibly even kill the kid, if the kid left Islam. The parents can’t and/ or won’t stop this ‘radicalisation’, because the parents are part of the process. – CM

“The age, the 16 year old is going to be a concern to any of us, and it’s going to be a concern to parents, and it’s really where the hub of this is”, she said.

Deputy Commissioner Burns needs to talk to the Israelis and find out about the even younger Muslims who have taken part in the Stabbing Jihad in Israel in the past twelve months, and find out about what happens when the parents, the extended family, find out that their young teenage kinsman or woman has gotten killed in the process of attempting to murder Jews, or has in fact succeeded in murdering Jews. The family celebrates. The family is proud of them. Burns is a fool if she thinks Muslim parents are going to prevent their kid from becoming a ‘shaheed’. – CM ‘Minister for Justice Michael Keenan said police were being trained in ‘indicators of radicalisation’.

Talk to the Israelis, mate, if you’re not already doing it. In particular, talk to Mordechai Kedar, who will tell you all about Jihad, and where it comes from. – CM

“Since the national terrorism threat level was raised on 12 September 2014, there have been four attacks, and now eleven major [counter-terrorism] disruption operations in response to potential attack planning in Australia", he said.

"I would like to reassure the public that following these arrests there is no immediate or ongoing threat to the public".

Oh yes there is. There are at least 500,000 Muslims resident in Australia. There will be more attacks, and more plots. Count on it. – CM
