

The Fall of Bandar Abbas, Khuzestan/‘Arabistan’ Province, & Hope for a Better Tomorrow for Two Ancient Ancestral Peoples

By Gerald A. Honigman

Recent reports relate that the fall of the strategically important port of Bandar Abbas and oil rich Khuzestan/“Arabistan” province centered in Ahwaz is underway.

The Iraq-Iran war was fought largely over the oil in that western Iranian province in the 1980s, and the accompanying links below, “Viva Arabistan” and the fireside chat style earlier You Tube on this same subject follow..

“Why Palestine But Not Arabistan?”

Here's the analysis for the above You Tube:

Next is the latest breaking news regarding this important topic, critical to the survival of the Islamic Republic..

And hopefully, when the current murderous regime of the genocidal mullahs is decapitated, two ancient ancestral peoples in the region, Jews and Persian/Aryan Iranians, can return to the long history of good relations they had long before their two homelands were invaded by foreign Arabs, bursting out of a rapidly desiccating Arabian Peninsula, stealing hundreds of millions of various native peoples' lands all over the Middle East, black Africa, North Africa, the Indian subcontinent, and elsewhere as well.

Note the Roman coin of conquest in this link is an Iudaea \(Judaea\) Capta coin—NOT an Arabia or non-existent Palaestina capta one:

For additional historical context, this next analysis provides extensive corroboration regarding the four major revolts Judaea fought for its freedom and independence from the Roman and Byzantine Empires, clear up to the massive invasion of jihadi imperial, settling, and colonizing Arab hordes in the 7th century C.E.

Gladiator II, the insatiable appetite of the Roman Eagle

And, hopefully, what you'll read below, may yet once again come to pass between the resurrected nation of the Jews, Israel Reborn, and that of the proud Iranian people. See here...

Between Iran and Israel: It Wasn't Always Like This...

Together with a peaceful Hindu India, protected autonomous zones for Assyrian, Chaldean, other Christians, and Druze; hopefully the long overdue creation of an independent state for 41 million truly stateless people, who were previously promised independence after World War I, and who have been America's loyal friends and allies, the Kurds, our best fighting force confronting Arab and Turkish supporting jihadi murderous organizations like ISIS, al-Qaida, and other Hamas-like folks, a new Middle East will emerge, more capable of resisting the intolerant forces of supremacist, expansionist, Islamists seeking the unending spread of the Dar ul-Islam at everyone else's expense.