

Thought Experiment about those Seven Countries

What would happen if I were to walk down the streets of Mogadishu, Baghdad, Tripoli, Khartoum, Sana'a, even Damascus or Tehran in my normal Western attire wearing my customary cross around my neck? What about Kabul, Islamabad or Riyadh? This gentleman asked that question for himself of his Iraqi "partners" who were utterly indignant over Trump's temporary suspension of visas. Here is what they said.