

Two Thirds of the World are on America's Welfare Rolls

By Armando Simón

The budget should be balanced, the Treasury should be refilled, public debt should be reduced, the arrogance of officialdom should be tempered and controlled, and the assistance to foreign lands should be curtailed lest Rome become bankrupt. People must again learn to work, instead of living on public assistance.” –Cicero, 55 BC

It is one thing to speak in generalities, it is another to see the details. Billions of taxpayer money is sent out every year, courtesy of Democrats and Republicans alike (by the way, do these politicians have offshore accounts?). As can be seen below, we have the entire continent of South America on welfare; we have the entire continent of Africa on welfare; we have three quarters of the countries in Asia on welfare.

Only one, randomly chosen, year was chosen (the exact figures fluctuate slightly from month to month). Incidentally, the information was obtained before USAID shut down the website which posted the amount of money per country per year.

Conclusion

And they often receive the aid after they insult us. Not too long ago the erratic president of the Philippines, Duterte, quipped that Secretary Kelly gave his country $33 million of money (that did not belong to Kerry) after Duterte told us to go to hell. He said perhaps he should insult us some more. A European leader (I forget his name) years ago stated that America was like a woman whom you slap in the face—she gives you more of her money.

The solution to this never ending obscenity is easy. Incredibly easy. Eliminate—not reduce, not downsize, but eliminate, as in eradicate, as in wipe out, as in tear down—the United States Agency for International Development, and, along with that, completely eliminate—not reduce, not downsize, but eliminate, as in eradicate, as in wipe out, as in disintegrate—all foreign aid. Without exception. One does not reduce a cancerous tumor because it will regrow. One excises it!

Attempting to do so will result in an avalanche of lachrymose appeals about how absolutely necessary this, that, or the other program is and how it should remain untouched if we are ever going to rid the world of AIDS, ebola, irritable bowel syndrome, dirty water, famine, drought, ingrown toenails, illiteracy, circumcision, lack of circumcision, defective pencils, stale crackers, fostering homosexuality, shoelaces, etc. You will see dozens of photographs of children—always children—with suffering faces. You will hear dozens of corrupt politicians (with offshore accounts) and the army of lobbyists saying how tragic it is that “the world” (read: us American suckers) are turning our backs on this or that “humanitarian crisis” and that “something needs to be done.” Or that good, old standby, “racism.” In the meantime, USAID deep state workers will ignore orders to stop giving out money that does not belong to them.

African dictators will demand that Western countries send them money, using either slogans of “the rich must help the poor,” or, “reparations for slavery” that will elicit knee jerk reactions from liberals (whites never enslaved black Africans. Black Africans did it. Then, they sold the slaves to other Africans, to Arabs, and to whites. Perhaps they should demand reparations from Arabs.).

The above agitators will not give up without a fight. Too much money is at stake.

And, of course, you will hear appeals to “compromise,” and “gradual.”
