

UK Against Hate march, Manchester, England: an honest account

I have heard good reports about the March against Hate in Manchester yesterday. This is an eye witness account by a blogger, Shy Society, who was there. No-one I know, which is excellent, as it means that the willingness to get out and make presence felt is spreading. Do follow The Rebel the Canadian founded organisation that Tommy Robinson and Caolan Robertson work with.

Tommy Robinson is the only white heterosexual Englishman in that banner; the others are either gay or from an ethnic minority.

And then you can read what the