

Updated: Tommy Robinson granted bail

Breaking news from friends at the Royal Courts of Justice in London. Confirmed by the Biased Broadcasting Company via an national newspapers are issuing headlines as if Tommy has won totally and the matter is completely dismissed. Either they are ignorant of legal procedure and the exact judgment (quite likely – standards of journalism are exceeding low these days) or they are trying to mislead the public for some nefarious purpose (also quite likely.)

Update at noon – bail conditions are the perfectly reasonable 'not to go within 400 yards of the Crown Court at Leeds'. As his family home is 100 miles away in Bedfordshire that isn't draconian.

Update at 1.30pm

I have had sight of the judgment handed down from the Court of Appeal this morning. It's a PDF so I'm not sure I Video here – times have changed that some hearings are videoed.
