

Very small, sex-segrgated static demonstration in Dewsbury this afternoon

Too small to be dignified with a report in the local newspaper that I can see. The Nowhere Photographer popped along and I have embeded his video below from X

An interesting small protest in Dewsbury #rapegangs #dewsbury

I believe the sister thinks her brother who was convicted was innocent

Note that the group is mostly women with covered faces and that the men are standing separately from them holding onto the big banner as the sisters intone No Justice – No peace.

I always want to reply No Peace – no Privileges

And some still photographs, also from X users, some taken from a tik-tok video I cannot access directly.

The organisers denied an intention to read out the names of the victims; they have received a lot of criticism both on line and by telephone.
