

Why I Am A Proud Trump Republican

by Rebecca Bynum (May 2014)

The center of political gravity has shifted. The Reagan-Bush era of the Republican Party is over. The standard bearers of the old party are variously in mourning or enraged, but regardless of their feelings, what seems certain is that Donald J. Trump is going to win the nomination and is destined to redefine the Republican Party for the future. more>>>