

Wise Advice from Mordechai Kedar: "Only Deterrence Sustains Israel".

*Mordechai Kedar, as described in this article that appeared in Israel National News on 31 July, enunciates something that our own 'Hugh Fitzgerald', of New English Review, has stated on many occasions: that, vis a vis the sea of Muslim enemies that surround it, Israel must be – AND – seem – inassailable.*

Darura. Necessity. The 'strong horse' principle. Kedar knows what it is, how it works. He well understands the bully mind of Islam, and also its infinite duplicity. If only all his fellow Israelis understood, as he does. And not only Israelis, but.. every leader, political, military, and religious, of every non-Islamic society currently assailed by the global Jihad, that does not stop. The principle enunciated by Kedar – that "In this area [that is: "in this region dominated, maddened, suffused with Islam" – CM] only if you are invincible, you get peace..." requires to be learned by heart by every country in the lands that Muslims view as dar al Harb, region of war. For there are few non-Islamic countries on earth, today, that are not in some way affected by Muslim aggression, Muslim threats, Muslim infiltration-and-subversion, and Muslim petrodollar bribes. Let all those countries listen and pay attention to Mordechai Kedar.

And so to the article.

"When People Take You Seriously, You Can Live in Peace".

'Middle East expert, Dr Mordechai Kedar, explains why Israel's friends (sic: 'frenemies' would be a more accurate term – CM) aren't necessarily 'good guys' (true dat – CM); says only deterrence sustains Israel'.

'Middle East expert Dr Mordechai Kedar, who lectures at Bar-Ilan University, explained at the Arutz Sheva conference that Israel's friends are not necessarily 'good guys', urging Israel to separate Hamas' "head from its shoulders".

'The conference, held at Jerusalem's King David Hotel, was organised by Dr Joseph Frager.

"Unfortunately, the Middle East (sic: not only 'the middle east' but the entire dar al Islam! – CM) is full of too many bad guys. Even those who look like "good guys", he said.

"For example, in Israel and abroad, we said that [Syrian President Bashar al-] Assad is a 'good guy', because he keeps the agreement on the Golan very strictly... and is a man which.. you know, you can rely on him, and you can make business with him, and there is a state, and with a state... you can make business (I think by 'make business' he means, "do business" – CM).

"The problem is, that the same Assad, who is viewed as a nice man, both the father and the son, were actually in bed with the Iranians, with Hamas, with Hezbollah – Hezbollah, big time, with the Islamic Jihad, and every terror organisation (that is: Jihad outfit – CM) which worked against Israel day and night – Assad was behind it. So what do you mean by "good guy"? The fact that he keeps the agreement in the Golan – he has reasons. But he fought against us in every other possible arena. So to define him as a "good guy" only because he doesn't shoot at us, but he sponsors others which shoot at us – this is insane.'

"[Former Egyptian President Hosni] Mubarak, in the south – he was a "good guy" because he was with us. But he allowed smuggling weapons, including missiles, from Sinai to Gaza.

Why did he allow them? Because he wanted us to take care of Hamas. Because when they shoot us, we will shoot them, and kill them for him. And this is... [a] malicious kind of thinking.

“Even the Saudis... yesterday it was published that they are demanding to give Jerusalem to the Palestinians (sic: to the so-called ‘Palestinian’ Arab Muslims – CM). What do you mean by “good guys”??”

‘Dr Kedar also discussed how Israel should relate to incoming rockets, whether accidental or intentional.

“I don’t care if it’s accidental or not”, he said. “What we should keep forever is our deterrence. Let others (that is: the Muslim Ummah, the Mohammedan Mob, Arab and non-Arab – CM) be afraid of us. This is what deterrence means. And this is actually our condition to remain in this area. Peace agreement is nothing more than a piece of paper”.

At that point Dr Kedar – who surely knows all about taqiyya, muruna, taysir, tawriyya, kitman and the entire slimy mess of sacralised Islamic duplicity and deceit – should have reminded all his hearers of the significance of the Treaty of Hdaybiyya, and why it is that Infidels cannot and must not trust any agreement entered into with Muslims; why, indeed, it is better not to enter into any such agreements in the first place. – CM

“In this area, only if you are invincible, you get peace. Not because you have an agreement, but because they’re afraid of you... This will actually give us peace forever, if we are forever invincible, and too dangerous to mess with. That’s all.”

Oh, for Mordechai Kedar to have a quiet conversation with President Trump. And with any number of others. Because the advice Kedar here gives his fellow Israelis is good advice for all infidel governments – and their generals – who must protect their people from the global Jihad. – CM

‘Regarding the incendiary balloons, and rocket attacks, he said, “What’s the difference between balloon and rocket? Only the velocity. But it can devastate you, and this can devastate you if it falls on you and burns you up, so what?

Thank goodness it didn't happen, but it's the same thing... This flies faster... and a balloon flies slower, this is the whole difference."

"We should have made the rules of the game, and telling them since day 2 – "Guys, another balloon, and we start to target the connection between the heads and the shoulders of the Hamas leaders."

"Because they are responsible; they took the Gaza Strip by force eleven years ago, they are responsible for everything which comes out of the Strip.

"And this is why we, Israel, should have held them responsible to the degree that whenever somebody sneezes towards Israel, and we don't like it, we target the connection between the heads and the shoulders of.. Hamas.

"You know, after the second one, the others would learn the lesson, and behave.

"And this is unfortunately how this Middle East (sic: this Muslim Middle East... and, indeed the entire Dar al Islam – CM) works. It is not Europe here, it's not America, it's not Canada, it's not... nowhere in the world. This region has its own culture".

This region (and a large chunk adjoining it, too, all the way across to Indonesia, and down into Africa) is the dar al Islam – the zone blighted by Islam, religion of blood and war. – CM

"When people take you seriously, you can live in peace".

Translation: "When Muslims know that the instant they attempt to attack you they will be squashed flat, then you can live in peace." – CM.

Thus Mordechai Kedar. The Comments to the article, at Israel National News, were interesting; they showed that at least some Israelis understand exactly what Kedar is talking about.

“Sarah” remarked – “Mordechai Kedar understands the way of the Arab mind (sic: rather, the Muslim mind – CM) which may be an oxymoron. The Prime Minister and IDF should consult with him on strategies to stop Hamas’ relentless attacks on Israel. They’ve already tried plenty of ideas that don’t work. Separating the heads of Hamas is an idea worth trying.”

“Avrumeleh” offered this: “It’s very refreshing to hear logic, reason, and someone who uses his head for something more than a hat-rack. So many people have ignored the realities of the Middle East and [of] Israel’s neighbours (Muslim neighbours – CM) who have already sacrificed their own children for generations already, to make-believe that if Israel were only a little nicer.. gave a little more... the Arabs (sic: the Muslims – CM) would finally accept them. Nonsense. That will NEVER happen. Only fear of Israel’s strength and resolve will ever lead to some kind of peace. Even Israel’s current leadership ought to pay more attention to Mordechai Kedar!”

And not only Israel’s leadership, but the leaders of all other non-Islamic countries in the world. Darura, darura, darura.

And it’s time to dispense with all the futile peace processing’, whether in Israel, or in South Asia (India and Pakistan) or Thailand (with the Muslims in the south) or the Philippines (again, with the Muslims in the south). Once one understands about Hudaybiyya, that should be it: no more agreements with Muslims, period. Only a plain statement, to the Ummah, to keep off, and keep out – and get out, and stay out – or be hammered into the ground. – CM
